

Where great ideas grow.

Meet Dreamfarm, the world's most original and exciting brand of "where have you been all my life" ideas since, well, ever.

Different by design.

There's no secret ingredient to our award-winning designs. Our recipe is simple, it all boils down to the 3 rules that all of our ideas are grown from.

1. We must solve a problem.

We believe solving a problem is a product's purpose and its reason to exist. Our design process always starts with finding a problem worth solving.

2. We must be original.

We believe the only way to be the best is to do something unique and useful. We never copy, we only break new ground.

3. We must work the best.

We believe the best products get used often. They are the tools you reach for first, and the tools that are made to last.
